DECEMBER 2009

From the Pastor: Sermons

Have you wondered how the sermon comes to us each week? What authority does it have? What difference does it make? Dr. William Willimon has some thoughtful comments:

When a sermon is preached, it is based on external authorization. The integrity of the preacher, the preacher's rhetorical gifts, and the setting of the sermon may all be possible sources of homiletical authority. Yet none of these sources of authority are as significant as scripture. Christian preaching has always been Biblical preaching. Our earliest sermons in the book of Acts and bits of sermons in the letters of Paul all show that gospel speakers do not begin with the present, in the speaker's experience, or in an astute assessment of the current situation. They begin with the bible, with citation of and remembrance of scripture. Jesus spoke of that wise scribe who brings forth from the treasure of the tradition what is old and what is new. (Mt.13:52)

We begin with the assumption that the Bible is a gift of God that uniquely illuminates human life in the present, and that uniquely, indispensably speaks the promises of God and the truth that is God in Christ Jesus.....We realize that we are entering a difficult and demanding world, not because the Bible is ancient and Jewish, but because it is a world that is based upon convictions and assumptions (i.e. Jesus is Lord) that are quite different from our own.

....So many times for us a text has been a vessel that carries us from one place to another, a door that opened to us, leading us into a new existence.

....The Biblical preacher proclaims as the text proclaims, confident that the text is still quite capable of evoking a good hearing, despite either the limits of either the preacher or the listener. As Acts says it, the word of God is so lively, interesting and explosive that, even through our pitiful efforts, by the grace of God, "The word of the Lord grew and prevailed mightily." (Acts 19:20) "The word of God increased and the number of disciples multiplied greatly." (Acts 6:7)

*....The preacher is the one who is ordained by the church to engage in listening to the text on behalf of the church. ["The Authority of the Word," an article from Homiletical Resources., Winter 2009-10]*

Pastor Elkin's sermons are available most weeks in print in the narthex before the service and have been made available online for the past three years as well on our congregational website, stmarkswilliamsport.org. When a question is "what was said?", look it up on the site; when the question is "what does that mean?" please call Pr. Elkin for a conversation.

Calling Saint Mark's Elves

Please join the Social Welfare Committee on Tuesday, December 8, 2009 at 7:00 p.m. in hosting a Christmas party for eighteen women at the Selinsgrove Center.

Saint Mark's has been visiting the Selinsgrove Center for many years but only began entertaining this group two years ago. These ladies, many in wheelchairs, require constant care from the staff. It is evident their caregivers are dedicated to the ladies and their care.

The committee needs your assistance with this event. Please consider doing one or more of the following.

- Join us that evening. There will be singing, storytelling and gifting. We will meet at the church parking lot at 5:30 p.m. and carpool to Selinsgrove.
- Donate Dove Body Wash or its generic equivalent. Their skin needs the moisturizing qualities in this type of body wash.
- Donate individual servings of pudding (no refrigeration needed) in all flavors. It is their favorite treat. They only receive vanilla, so other flavors are an extra-special treat.
- Donate colored tissue paper to package the body wash and pudding.
- We want to take holiday cookie trays, apples and snack-size boxes of raisins to their dedicated staff. Donate cookies and raisins to be given to their caregivers on three shifts.
- Donate money to offset the cost of gifting and purchasing fruit. Checks may be made payable to Saint Mark's.

Requested items for gifting can be left in the box in the Narthex. Please speak with Becky Miller Pryor to assist with this heartwarming event.

Calling St. Mark's Elves.....Again!

Be an angel and provide a Christmas gift to a resident of Danville State Hospital. Requests are generally modest and can easily be purchased at K-mart or Wal-Mart. Gift requests are available on the ornaments in the Narthex (four remain as this goes to print). Take an ornament. Sign the log sheet. Purchase the gift. Return it unwrapped with the ornament attached by December 6, 2009.

If no ornaments remain, please consider making a general gift. General gifts can be given to any resident not being individually gifted. Gifting options include phone cards, stationary, inexpensive watches and portable radios with headphones and extra batteries for the radios.

Please speak with Becky Miller Pryor for additional information.

Christmas Baskets for American Rescue Workers

This year St. Mark's is collecting CANS OF YAMS for the American Rescue Workers to assist in filling more than 400 Christmas baskets they prepare for needy people in our community. The American Rescue Workers provide a Christmas basket filled with enough food to stretch leftovers for three or more days. As you are doing your holiday shopping, please pick up an extra can or two of YAMS to add to the barrel in the Narthex. The Rescue Workers will be picking up the barrel on December 18. So, donations will be accepted through Sunday, December 13, 2009 (you may also drop them off that week during office hours).

Nurse's Notes

Nurse's Notes, December 2009

December 6 There has been some confusion regarding how long one should stay out of work or school after flu-like illnesses. According to the CDC, individuals "with influenza-like illness [should] remain at home until at least 24 hours after they are free of fever (100 degrees F), or signs of fever without the use of fever-reducing medications". (<http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/guidance/exclusion.htm>)

December 13 Pull-cords on drapes continue to pose a threat of strangulation for infants and toddlers. The Consumer Product Safety Commission [CPSC] offers the following safety tips to prevent deaths and injuries associated with window covering cords:

- * Examine all shades and blinds in the home. CPSC recommends the use of cordless window coverings in all homes where children live or visit. Make sure there are no accessible cords on the front, side, or back of the product.
- * Do not place cribs, beds and furniture close to the windows because children can climb on them and gain access to the cords.
- * Make loose cords inaccessible.
- * If the window shade has looped bead chains, install tension devices to keep the cord taut.

Note: Most window blinds sold prior to November 2000 have inner cords (for raising the slats of the blinds) that can be pulled by a child and form a loop in which the child's neck can entangle. Consumers should immediately repair these types of blinds. For a free repair kit, call the Window Covering Safety Council at 800-506-4636 or visit www.windowcoverings.org In addition, ask your child-care provider to check their blinds and window coverings as well.

December 20 Liquid potpourri can harm your pet. "Filling your house with the smell of pine or peppermint may seem inviting, but if you're partial to heating your scented oil in a simmer pot, know that it can cause serious harm to your cat. These oils are toxic to cats, and even a few licks can result in severe chemical burns in the mouth, fever, difficulty breathing, and tremors (shakes). Dogs aren't quite as sensitive, but it's still wise to scent your home with a non-toxic candle kept safely out of your pet's reach." (Prevention Magazine, December 2009, pg. 126)

December 27 Did you know that only 2 tablespoons of sunflower seeds can supply nearly 40% of the recommended daily allowance of Vitamin E – an antioxidant that helps prevent sun damage? For a healthy crunch, sprinkle them onto your salad instead of croutons. (Prevention Magazine, December 2009, pg. 36)

Service of Remembrance
December 27th 4:00 p.m.

Family Promise

Jane Zimmerer and Becky Miller Pryor wish to thank the congregation for the many, many donations of towels, sheets, hygiene items, lamps, comforters, blankets, baby accessories, two beautiful wooden stands and money to get last minute needed items to host children and their families experiencing a housing crisis. Surely our guests will feel comforted in their temporary surroundings.

In the near future, we will be speaking with folks asking for volunteers to assist with setting up, preparing meals, visiting with our guests and cleaning up at the conclusion of our hosting week. Please be thinking and praying as to where you wish to serve. You can make a difference in a family's life by donating just two hours a week to Family Promise right here at St. Mark's!

Notes from the Pews

Hope everyone got a glimpse of our own Dick Lakey featured in a one half page add in the Sun Gazette recently. Dick was honored for twenty years of concerts given to benefit dialysis patients. It was a handsome picture, a fine tribute and a well-deserved honor. Nancy Ackerman joined Dick in the concert which also featured Stained Glass Window with another of our own, Ken Shafranko as part of the group.

Those Campbell twins keep on making news – Brett was one of four freshmen at New York University to be part of Forbidden NYU which was presented at the university and also for Parents' Weekend. Lauren, a student at American University, is going to tutor inner city students in math.

Our young people who are students at Sheridan are also standouts. Sean Jensen and Ben and Hannah Haussmann were students of the month for September and Grace and Owen Elliott received that honor for October. Elizabeth Haussmann was named student of the year at Hope Enterprise Preschool. Great job!

Shelby Weber was pictured in the newspaper making paper chains at the Brown Library as part of the Junior League of Williamsport's Family Night.

Gillian Buckman is following in the footsteps of her uncle and grandparents. She will portray Scamper Mouse and other parts in The Nutcracker presented at the Community Arts Center on December 5. Nick, Jim and Deb were part of the Williamsport Civic Chorus concert on November 15 which featured the Faure Requiem.

Don't forget to e mail me with your exciting news and maybe even your not so exciting news!

Consecration Sunday Report

The Treasurer is pleased to report that the Consecration Sunday totals exceeded last year in significant ways. 99 cards were returned this year, compared with 103 last year. There were 32 increases in estimates compared with 31 last year. The dollar figures for estimates of giving total $212,959 this year and $217,015 last year. The more cards returned, the better, so that the Treasurer does not need to do as much guesswork concerning those who do not fill out the estimate cards. It is never too late to give an estimate card, and if the figure needs to be adjusted during the year, a phone call to the Financial Secretary can make the needed change.

The Pastor welcomes invitations to visit members of the parish in their homes, at church, or other suitable meeting places. Please call the office at 323-4619 or email: pastor@stmarkswilliamsport.org to schedule a time.

ADVENT WREATH MAKING

Twenty-four folks gathered for fun, food and fellowship on the First Sunday of Advent: conversation was enjoyed, food was munched, wreaths were created and a tree was festooned. The only thing wrong with the day was that more weren't there to enjoy it.

Reminder to those who made wreaths: please don't forget to return the reusable materials to the office hallway. Thanks

Children's Church is on Sunday, December 13, at 10:30. We look forward to seeing everyone there—bring a friend!!! See you in the chapel December 13!!!

If anyone has any old Christmas cards they don't want, Please bring them in before Saturday, December 12 (We need them for a children's project).

Caroling, caroling

Call- ing all those who can spend an hour or two on December 13 greeting some of our special needs folks at home and singing a Christmas carol with them. We'd really like to get to everyone on the list, but that is possible only if we have more singings to divide up the task into several groups. We will leave from the church promptly at 2:00 P.M. Song sheets will be provided; you need to bring a smile and willingness to greet your fellow members.

What are all the events about, you ask?

They are about spreading the good news of Christ's birth through fellowship and service to others.

KIDS' MORNING OUT is a morning of fun activities for your children. They help bake cookies for our shut-ins—and sample a few as well; create a craft project as a gift for a special someone (Mom, Dad, grandparents?); listen to a story and play a game or two! Meanwhile, Mom and Dad—you can relax with a cup of coffee or be Santa's helper without interruption.

ADULT COOKIE BAKE begins where the kids leave off. Gather with fellow bakers to make your favorite recipe and assist with theirs. We use a couple from each recipe to supplement the children's offering for our shut-ins, share with each other, and take what's left from your recipe home with you (triple batches are not unheard of). We will have flour, sugar, eggs, butter and margarine here. If you want to contribute any of these supplies, please call Bernadette.

CHRISTMAS CAROLING is held the following day. We always hope to have four groups to send out to the compass points caroling, delivering cookies and visiting with those unable to join in the festivities here. Please consider joining in one or all of these events! Don't miss out on this action-packed weekend!!

MORE Special Thank You's

Dear Rev. Elkin,

I just wanted to tell you that it was such a pleasure to be able to attend my grandson's confirmation service. My son, Gary Weber, came all the way to my home the day before so that I could be there.

Since I stayed over right at his home, I was there in the morning to hear the boys say how excited they were to go to church and Sunday School. You must be doing something outstanding to affect children that way. I belong to St. John's Lutheran Church here in Sinking Spring. Very often I see parents in church without their children. We have a very active church, but I see a big difference in your relationship with the youth.

I also want to thank your members for the very nice lunch they provided after the church service for the family of each child that was confirmed. It was very special.

I can see that Riley is in good hands at St. Mark's.

Sincerely, Ruth A. Weber

Dear friends at St. Mark's Lutheran ,

Thank you for your generosity. We were very much in need of the large donation of assorted personal hygiene products that you donated. Thank you very much for assisting the Shepherd of the Streets ministry. May the Lord's peace and blessings be upon all of you.

Karen Nelson, Volunteer

Dear Friends at St. Mark's Lutheran Church,

Thank you for your generous donation to help Prisoner Visitation and Support find additional volunteer visitors and to support them with the proper training to do their visiting. One of our visitors says in the PVS video "Prisoners and prisons are not very popular." Yet, we are challenged by our faiths to visit the prisoners. You, by your contribution, make this possible. Again, thank you!

Sincerely yours, Betty Woodman, PVS Visitor

HEALTH, HEALING & WHOLENESS

(W)holy, (W)holy, (W)holy
 Health, Healing and Wholeness Article
 December 2009

“Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit; and there are varieties of services, but the same Lord; and there are varieties of activities, but it is the same God who activates all of them in everyone. To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good...All these are activated by one and the same Spirit, who allots to each one individually just as the Spirit chooses.” (1Corinthians 12:4-7, 11)

Here we are, once again, in the season of gift-giving. For some, Christmas may be a little different this year, because economics have shaped the way we celebrate. Many have found it necessary to limit the amount of money spent on gifts to loved ones; some may have eliminated gift giving altogether. Some may be finding themselves celebrating at home vs. traveling by car or plane to loved ones in other states. This is not a bad thing! Perhaps it is time that we give more deliberate time and thought toward celebrating the season more simply, for when we don't make the connection between Christ and our gift-giving, Santa becomes the spirit of Christmas.

Throughout the past month, I've been gathering a few non-traditional ideas for gift-giving this Christmas, and I would like to share them with you.

- * Instead of putting them away or tossing them, keep cards and well-wishes in a small basket where they can be savored throughout the year. Meditate on the words announcing the coming of the greatest gift that has ever been given.
- * Instead of buying gifts, make donations to your local United Way or charity/charities that are significant in the lives of your loved ones. Mother Teresa once said, “It is Christmas every time you let God love others through you ... Yes it is Christmas every time you smile at your brother and offer your hand.” These gifts keep on giving long after the garland and tinsel are put away!
- * Give handmade gifts this year.
- * Give your children a Shepherd's pouch – a simple drawstring bag – in which to collect loose change throughout the month – use the money to purchase a gift for someone in need. Worship together before setting out to do so.
- * Instead of a tree this year, arrange gifts under a crèche [manger].
- * During a meal together, ask one another, “If Jesus were sitting next to you, what would you give him this Christmas? Why?”
- * Buy baby items, wrap and place them with the other gifts – donate them to a social service agency that deals with infants.
- * Host a baby Jesus Christmas/birthday party for your family and neighborhood kids. Have each family bring a gift to be donated to a service agency, or shelter that houses children.
- * Give your children an age-appropriate crèche to play with. Tell them the Christmas story and have them act it out with the figures. Remember though, the Wise Men came after the birth of the baby Jesus!
- * Throughout the coming year, have Jesus “grow up” What qualities did he possess? Pick Bible verses to read and discuss as a family.

Finally, one of the greatest gifts we can give is to be patient and merciful to others. For “to each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good”. Be the light of Christ to others not only on December 25, but throughout the coming year. Let others come to know him through your words and deeds.

Christmas blessings!
