Christmas is Coming

Selinsgrove Center Christmas Party

Our annual Christmas party for the 19 ladies at the Selinsgrove Center is only a few days away!

We still are in need of moisturizing body wash, pudding cups in all flavors, and a few more pairs of slipper socks.

Each lady receives a gift bag that includes a pair of slipper socks, body wash and two cups of pudding. Any remaining slipper socks, body wash or pudding is also donated to be used as needed by the ladies.

Please call Becky Miller Pryor ASAP (321-9523) if you are able to provide homemade cookies, a box of tangerines or clementines, a bag of apples or holiday tissue paper.

Monetary donations are always welcome to fill in any gaps with our gifting.

Checks may be made payable to St. Mark's with the memo line indicating "Selinsgrove Party."

All donations are needed by Sunday, December 2nd

On Wednesday, December 5, 2012 we will meet at the church at 6:00 pm to carpool to Selinsgrove. Additional "elves" wishing to join the festivities are always welcome.

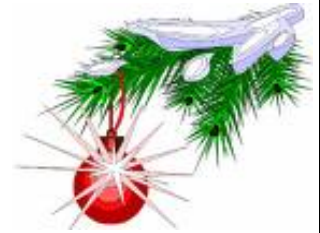

Danville State Hospital Christmas Gifts

Once again we have been asked to provide modest gifts to the residents of Danville State Hospital. This year we are providing general gifts that insure every resident has a gift to open on Christmas Day. These general gifts are especially needed for those folks who get admitted to the hospital in late November and December.

If you wish to provide a gift, take a snowman ornament from the tree in the Narthex, purchase the listed item and return it unwrapped to the tub in the Narthex.

All gifts for Danville residents are due by Sunday, December 9th.

Thank you for any assistance you are able to give.
Becky Miller Pryor is the contact person for this project.

2012 Annual Service of Remembrance

This year our Remembrance Service will be held on Sunday, December 30th at 4 p.m.

With the service being held later in the afternoon if anyone needs a ride, please call the office (323-4619) to let Michele know and we can arrange transportation.

As usual a beautiful keepsake ornament handcrafted by John Burkholder will be yours to take with you.

Christmas Hosting for Family Promise

We will be hosting families experiencing a housing crisis during the week of Christmas (December 23 – December 30, 2012.) For many of us it is a time of joy and celebration. But I can only imagine the sadness these families are feeling knowing they do not have a home in which to celebrate with their children. I cannot begin to imagine what the little ones are thinking.

As coordinator I need your help more than ever.

During our regular hosting the families are only with us for supper and overnight. But from the evening of December 24th until breakfast on December 26th the families will be with us around the clock.

We then return to the regular schedule for the remainder of the week.

As daunting of a task this week is, we have already been blessed with some help. We have been given a tree with lights for the families to decorate on December 23rd.

Gifts for the families are being provided by various groups.

The families will eat Christmas dinner (noon) at Sojourner Truth Ministries.

We already have folks who will sleep overnight December 24th and help with a light supper on December 25th.

But many more volunteers are needed. Please pray for guidance as to how you can help make a difference in a family's life.

Here is a list of ways in which you can help.

- ◆ Volunteer to drive the van, prepare meals, be an evening visitor or sleep overnight.
- ◆ Volunteer to be at church for two hours Christmas Day.
- ◆ Provide some decorations for the family tree.
- ◆ Be a cake maker or cookie baker.
- ◆ Help put the "woman's touch" on the bedrooms at the beginning of hosting.
- ◆ Do laundry at the end of the week.
- ◆ There will be several loads of blankets to wash due to the cold weather.
- ◆ Help Mel and Kirk tear down at the end of hosting.
- ◆ Provide groceries to support the donated suppers and snacking.
- ◆ Look for a list of needed items in the bulletin beginning mid-December.
- ◆ Provide money to purchase needed items that include fresh fruits, veggies, milk and bread.

Checks may be made payable to St. Mark's and marked "Hosting Fund."

Larue Dieter and I, with help from a few others, are calling folks now to schedule our week of hosting.
Give us a call if you have a specific day/time in mind.
If we leave a message for you, please call us back.
It makes scheduling go more smoothly.

Operation Christmas Child Shoeboxes Update

Our Operation Christmas Child shoeboxes have been packed, wrapped, filled and taken to the distribution center for shipment - a total of 65 shoeboxes were completed!!! With such a large number of shoeboxes, our shipping costs were even higher this year, and we want to thank everyone who gave so generously to cover this expense. Each shoebox cost $7 to ship. A huge "Thank You" to all who helped at the Pack 'n Wrap, packed their own shoeboxes, and donated items or money for shipping, our collection certainly was a huge success!!!!!! Please consider joining us next year—it really is a fun time and it's hysterical to see the adults frantically wrapping as the children and youth circle the tables, searching for wrapped boxes, like sharks around a wreck!! Great fun!!!

WAHS Holiday Hoo-Ha!!!

The combined orchestra, chorus and band annual holiday concert was enthusiastically dubbed the "Hoo-Ha" several years ago and seems to have stuck! Join these young performers as they celebrate the season on Sunday, December 16, at 3:00 p.m.

On Christ the King Sunday, November 25, Ashton Ott, Elizabeth Haussmann, Amalie Robertson and Jonah Schreckengast, after three weeks of study, received the sacrament of Holy Communion at the 10:30 service. Afterwards, there was a luncheon celebrating the children joining the table at Communion and they all received their Bibles for the Third Grade Milestone.

Lessons from Clay

Yet you, LORD, are our Father. We are the clay, you are the potter; we are all the work of your hand. ~ Isaiah 64:8

As the semester continues, students become more and more bogged down with school work. Their time is limited, and often extra activities and clubs are abandoned. I am finding that is the case with UCM. Students are either too busy, or they find other more fun things to do than be part of a Bible study or service project. One student had said that since we don't have very many students in our group, that we should maybe just let UCM fade away. I didn't want to do that, but I started thinking that maybe he was right.

I am taking a ceramics class at the college, and was working on a pot as a student called to let me know he was leaving the group. Not long after our conversation, the pot I was working on broke from the top. I was ready to throw it away, but my teacher said that it could be saved. He gathered up the four broken pieces, and very patiently worked with it and put it back together with vinegar. He told me that it was fragile, and that I needed to be careful with it. That incident reminded me when we think something should be abandoned, maybe all we need to do is ask for God's help and work patiently to restore it to be the way it was. At our next class, I picked up the same pot to work on it, but I handled it by the weak joint and it broke again, this time into five or six pieces. I thought for sure it was done, and time for the trash because I couldn't get it back together the way it was. The pieces kept breaking. After looking at it awhile from different angles, I saw that I could cut away some of the broken pieces, reshape it, re-sand it, and I would still have the pot, but not the same one that it was before. Again, it reminded me of UCM, and how some parts of the ministry that weren't working as well as we wanted them to, could be cut out, and new things could emerge. I am looking forward to the challenge of a new semester to see what can be cut away and re-shaped, and I am trusting the Lord to shape and mold UCM into the ministry that He wants it to be.

With the semester's end on its way, we will be doing study bags again for the students as they prepare for finals. We are accepting snacks and water bottles donations from individuals and congregations to fill the bags. If you would like to donate something, please let me know and I will be happy to pick them up. We appreciate your prayers for the students at Penn College, and we thank you for your support.

TEEN MOVIE NIGHT!

Because of the way the holidays fall,
we meet again on December 30, 6:00 p.m.

Spread the word—hope to see you there!!

Thank You Notes

Dear Pastor Elkin,

First of all, let me tell you how much I appreciated your phone call last week, for many reasons. Secondly, please do express our gratitude to the members of St. Mark's for the generous offering gathered and forwarded to us for storm relief here in New Jersey. The need is so great. Now, let me recount a story of how mysteriously God provides for need.

At the same time that your letter arrived in the regular mail, I received an e-mail communication from one of our members who works for New Jersey Natural Gas. She is now working seven days a week as a buyer to make sure their workers have all they need to restore gas lines and service to the Jersey shore area around Seaside and Long Beach Island. Monique also told me that her office has been designated as a drop off point for the Red Cross for direct local distribution to the residents of that hard-hit area. She has asked that our members collect donations of bottled water, non-perishable food items, baby food, diapers, and personal care items. As they come in, Monique will take the donations to her office. This week I am sending out four designated shoppers to purchase the needed items with your generous offering of $615.00. To those purchases we will also be adding our own donations of these goods. Together we will be able to meet the needs of so many more shore residents. We may need to borrow a truck!

Thank you so much for your care and generosity. With prayers for you and the good people of St. Mark's as you serve our Lord through serving others, I remain

Your sister in Christ, Rev. Linda Larson

Dear friends, Thank you so much for inviting me and my bookstore for the annual Christmas Book fair. It is always so nice to see so many people that are familiar and old friends. It's also nice to meet new friends each year. I've enclosed a check for $30 from the sales at the book fair which I hope will help in your ministry. Many thanks my friends! Wishing you a blessed holiday season!

News in Our Pews

We are so blessed to have the Little Lambs Preschool at St. Mark's – not only is it an excellent use of space we don't need during the week but the school is always presenting a wide array of programs – in recent newspapers they have been featured sponsoring a "Hibernation party" spending time in caves they created by decoration shoeboxes. On fire safety day they held a contest for the best dressed firefighter and enjoyed a visit from firemen and their truck.

In other school events the Williamsport Area High School life skills class held a Thanksgiving lunch for staff members, families and community members. James Newcomer, son of Susan and Jim, participated in preparing and serving the festive meal.

Congratulations to Riley Weber who recently completed his Eagle Scout project at Stevens Elementary School. Thanks to Riley and his work in securing donations the school now has a new set of benches and landscaping at the front of the school! Good work, Riley – there are lots of nonprofits who could use your fundraising skills!

Beth Shafranko was pictured in the newspaper featuring the Center For Body Balance. Beth explains that there is much more than massage at her center. In addition to four licensed massage therapists, they have an occupational therapist and two licensed social workers. As happy clients of one of her massage therapists, Bud and I happily recommend the center!

Nice picture of Donna Ochs Maule wishing her a happy 65th birthday on October 31 – Said she looked good at thirty and 65 – and she does!

I think I have a replacement reporter in Annika Waffenschmidt – her article about the 5K runs at West Branch School appeared in the local paper. The students have been training for a 5K run for the past two years. I think I spotted two Larson grandchildren in the picture but can't be sure and also saw Annika in costume for one of their plays. When you are ready Annika, I have a place for you!

I wish you all a happy and blessed Thanksgiving!

Even a few tabs add up, so please keep collecting. There is a collection container for tabs in the Narthex.

Health, Healing & Wholeness

"Hold me up, that I may be safe..." Ps.119:117a, NRSV

When my son was a toddler, he suffered from recurrent ear infections. At one point, our physician referred us to an Ear, Nose and Throat specialist to determine if Andrew should have tubes surgically inserted. In the waiting room, the surgeons had assembled shadow boxes containing some of the more unusual items they had removed from the ears, noses and throats of kids throughout the years. I don't recall seeing any "button" batteries then, but I'm sure they have since been added to the collections. According to Safe Kids USA, in 2010 alone, more than 3400 swallowing cases were reported in the US. Nineteen children sustained life-threatening or debilitating injuries – others died.

Button batteries are those small, disc or button shaped batteries that are being used in a wide variety of electronic items. They can be found in laptops, TV remotes, remote car keys, calculators, cameras, bathroom scales, digital thermometers, talking books, video games, hearing aids, insulin pumps, watches, and greeting cards – even in children's toys. Their resemblance in size and shape to candy appears to be tantalizing to toddlers. Meanwhile, at the other end of the age spectrum, elderly hearing aid users have been known to accidentally swallow them because of their closeness in shape and size to medication tablets.

Lodged in the nose or inner ear, the battery can burn through cartilage leading to difficulty breathing and hearing loss. If swallowed, they can become fatal, as the battery's chemicals, burn through or tear the esophagus – leading to internal bleeding and/or the formation of fistulas in delicate tissue and blood vessels. All this can begin within the first two-to-two-and-a-half hours of swallowing. Unfortunately, the majority of ingestions are un-witnessed, and the signs of ingestion are not specific. Webmd, quoting data from the National Battery Ingestion Hotline, indicates that 54% of fatal cases were misdiagnosed. Non-specific symptoms include, vomiting, fever, lethargy, sore throat, irritability, cough, wheezing, or drooling.

Safe Kids USA provides the following tips for battery safety
(www.safekids.org/safety-basics/safety-spotlight/battery-safety):

- ◆ Search your home, and any place your child goes for gadgets that may contain coin/button batteries. place heavy tape over the compartment containing the battery.
- ◆ Secure battery-controlled devices out of sight and reach of children and keep loose batteries locked away.
- ◆ Share this life-saving information with caregivers, friends, family members and sitters.
- ◆ In Case of Emergency - Keeping batteries out of reach and secured is key, but if a child swallows a battery, parents and caregivers should follow these steps:
- ◆ Go to the emergency room immediately. Tell doctors and nurses that your child may have swallowed a battery. If possible, provide the medical team with the identification number found on the battery's package.
- ◆ Do not let the child eat or drink until a chest x-ray can determine if a battery is present.
- ◆ Do not induce vomiting.
- ◆ Call the National Battery Ingestion Hotline at 202-625-3333 for additional treatment information.

According to the CDC, "given the increasing use of such batteries, public health and health care providers should include warnings of the dangers of button cell battery exposures when routinely counseling parents. Legislation is under consideration requiring that child resistant battery compartment closures are used on all consumer products using button cell batteries." Until then, however, education and preventive action are vital.
