A Few Questions for Our Congregation

Helping us discern who we are and what God is calling us to do

We are preparing a Ministry Site Profile as part of the process of calling a new rostered minister. Your honest reflections matter. Please take this home, think and pray about the questions, and return it to the church office or the basket after worship. You may also write on the back if you need more space.

1. Why do we exist, and for whom?

What is our purpose as a congregation? Who are we here for? What would someone watching us from the outside say we care about most?

2. What are we clearly good at?

What ministries or activities bring out the best in us? What do others seem to value about our life together?

3. What does our neighborhood really need right now?

How are we already helping to meet those needs? Would our neighborhood miss us if we were gone? Why or why not?

Thank you. Your responses will help the congregation council and leaders describe who we are and what gifts we need in the next rostered minister. Please return this form by the date announced in worship or the bulletin.

You do not need to fill every line. Short, honest answers are more helpful than long ones. If you would rather talk than write, please speak with a member of the congregation council or a committee member.
