God's children forever

We live each day knowing that we are God's children. Even after we die we know that we will always be with God. Imagine what that will be like. What and who will you see? Draw a picture here of your heavenly place with God.

The church has a pattern for worship that has been used by Christians for hundreds of years. Even though songs and words change, the pattern stays the same around the world.

Follow the pattern

There are four parts of worship: Gather, Hear, Celebrate, and Send.
Color each apple as that part of worship happens today.

Keep me as the apple of your eye

Psalm 17:8

What does that mean? We might think of big juicy apples when we hear this psalm verse but “keep me as the apple of your eye” means something different. We are asking God to love us and keep us safe, just as parents protect their precious children. We are very precious to God!

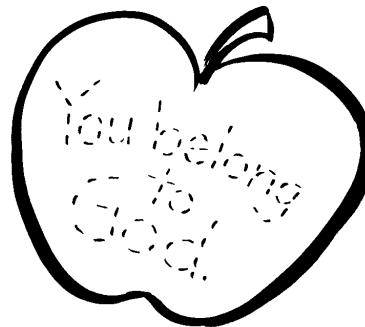

Trace the words on the apples. Each sentence is true about you. Fill in the center apple with your own sentence.

Take a walk and use your eyes to look around at God's creation.

God, keep me as the apple of your eye. Amen
